

Considering your legacy?

Consider Woodley House.

Over seven decades, Woodley House has supported tens of thousands of Washingtonians in living dignified, full lives while recovering from mental health disorders.

Today, Woodley House's residences and services remain as critical as ever. And our programs must grow if we are to break the cycle of homelessness in the District of Columbia.

Leaving a gift to Woodley House in your will or living trust, known as a bequest, can ensure that your legacy endures.

To learn more, contact Dan Schiff, Director of Development & Marketing, at dschiff@woodleyhouse.org or 202-830-3529.

Leaving a bequest, or making Woodley House the beneficiary of a life insurance policy or retirement plan, may reduce future tax liability for your estate.

By donating appreciated stock or mutual funds to Woodley House, you may be able to reduce or eliminate capital gains taxes on the transfer.

Talk to your financial advisor about other tax-advantaged ways to support Woodley House, including through a donor advised fund.
