WOODLEY HOUSE DC

Homes for dignity and community since 1958

OUR 2026 ROSE AWARDEE: DIANE MURRAY

At our 30th Annual Movie Benefit, Woodley House is thrilled to honor Diane Murray with the Donald A. Brown Rose Award, recognizing her dedication to Woodley House and those we serve. Along with Diane's decades of leadership in the D.C. region's business and technology sector, she has added immeasurably to the quality of life for so many in our community.

Diane is vice president of Woodley House's Board of Directors, on which she has served for the past 12 years. She is enjoying retirement after serving as Assistant Vice President in the Strategy and Innovation Division at SourceAmerica, where she developed business plans to provide employment for people with disabilities. Prior to joining SourceAmerica, Diane held multiple leadership roles over 32 years at Northrop Grumman.

The inaugural Rose Award was given in 1990 to Donald A. Brown, a former Woodley House board member and giant of philanthropy in the D.C. region. Diane will receive her Rose Award on Sunday, November 8, at Woodley House's 30th Annual Movie Benefit. The event will take place at the AFI Silver Theatre & Cultural Center in Silver Spring, Maryland.

"Woodley House is near and dear to my heart."* — Diane Murray

For 68 years, Woodley House has provided dignified housing and critical support services for men and women suffering from serious mental illness. Today, we serve more than 600 Washingtonians a year.

We hope you'll join us in honoring Diane's remarkable contributions to the greater D.C. community and some of our most vulnerable neighbors. By generously sponsoring the Woodley House Movie Benefit, you'll be supporting a cause close to Diane's heart, for which she's been a tireless champion.
